

theCAUSE

Zander Pifer's family has started a foundation in Zander's name to raise money to get him medical treatment from St. Joseph's Children's Hospital in New Jersey. At 22 months of age Zander's medical diagnosis is a GI Dysmotility causing his digestive system to not work properly. He has to be on Prevacid to break down the acid in the food, Reglan to push the food through the digestive system and Miralax to help dispose waste from his body. Zander also has multiple food allergies that contribute to the feeding disorder as well as a delayed gastric emptying, constipation and GERD (acid reflux). Zander has no abdominal oblique strength and his rib cage is higher than normal in his chest with lower rib contractions which contribute to his eating disorder. Zander is unable to take any form of baby food or table food due to a chewing and swallowing disorder. His form of foods at the present moment is doctor prescribed liquid medical formula. Zander is classified as failing to thrive due to the fact that he cannot get the proper amount of nutrition in his system due to the reflux and the GI Dysmotility. Zander is in need of a feeding tube but St. Joseph's Children's Hospital has a feeding clinic that can provide him the feeding rehab treatment so he may not have to depend on a much needed feeding tube.

Total cost for treatment is $30,170.00 the insurance will cover 11,840.00 and the out of pocket expense is 18,330.00 which is Zander's family's goal to reach before he can receive treatment.
